Case Study
Spring 2009

Section III: Learning Level Assessment

Using the case study course chapter, the case study introduction, your textbook, your ppt. slides, lecture notes, and the information you developed in Section II, describe how you would analyze the exam that you developed. In other words, describe how you would establish validity and reliability for the test instrument.

Next, describe how you would determine the effectiveness of the exam. And finally, describe how you would report the results of the exam to the training manager.

Be detailed and specific about the analyses that you would conduct and why. The document should be 1-2 pages long.
